

Jay Blake

Jay grew up in Wisconsin and then moved to Minnesota for the next twenty years. He moved to Los Angeles in 1999 but his accent still has hints of the Midwest.

A self-proclaimed “renaissance man” (but “master-of-none”), Jay dabbles in many pursuits: singing, playing keyboards, composing, folk and ballroom dancing, hiking, running, writing, photography, birdwatching, astronomy, etc.

His main passion, however, is acting – mostly in independent films, student films and commercials. A member of SAG-AFTRA since 2016, he’s hoping to do more and more visible roles.

His acting Web site is jayblake.actor. He also has a personal site: jayblake.com.